December 2025 Newsletter

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by Henry Penas

I'm pleased to share some recent updates with you.

We have a new Surfer editor — Aziel Sales, who graciously volunteered to take over from John Dool. I want to thank John for doing a superb job following Dick Huitema. John refreshed the look of our newsletter and managed all the details with skill and patience.

This issue marks the first of what we expect will be many from Aziel. How do you like the new look?

John also coordinated the audio/visual presentations for our Membership Meetings. That role now passes on to Michael Gagne, who will be taking us into the future.

Our past four Man of the Month articles were written by Al Remer, Ken Joseph, George Mihalakos, and Ken Sabanosh—each delivering first-class work.

We are fortunate to have such talent contributing regularly.

We've also welcomed two new "hash-slinging" volunteers to the Potluck line at our Membership Meetings — Chet St. Clair and Victor Garcia.

There are a couple of changes to our Board of Directors as well. Ron Grassullo has been elected Vice President, and Tom Daniel, who had previously stepped down, has graciously returned to fill a vacancy for the remainder of the current term.

It's this spirit of volunteerism that keeps our organization thriving. The guest list for our annual Volunteer Dinner this spring has grown significantly — a testament to how many members are stepping up to help.

As our activities expand, so does the need for more volunteers. You can spot our current volunteers by the yellow cards on their lanyards — many have been serving for years, driven by the satisfaction of making our organization stronger and more vibrant.

Who knows — perhaps something will inspire you to join their ranks!

DOWNTON ABBEY: THE GRAND FINALE

Friday, December 12, 1:30PM at The Pride Center

Free movie including popcorn and soda!

A SAGE and PRIME GENTLEMEN Event

The world of 'Downton,' admittedly as fantastical as Camelot, still celebrates an ideal of civility that is totally foreign for today's tech bros and one-percenters.

Elegantly directed by Simon Curtis from a deeply felt screenplay by series creator Julian Fellowes, the film I think we all can agree is a triumphant swan song for its marvelous cast, sadly minus the great Maggie Smith, who died a year ago this month. Dame Maggie claimed she never watched the show in which she stole every scene as the Dowager Countess of Grantham, whose rapier wit skewered hypocrites, rich and poor alike. She missed a lot by not watching, but the finale pays proper tribute to her internal fire and mischievous spirit.

The film opens in 1930 with Downton in crisis. Lady Mary Crawley, played with her customary spiky, sexy assurance by Michelle Dockery, is feeling the hot breath of scandal for the unforgivable sin of —wait for it— divorce, an earth-shattering event upstairs and downstairs. Oh, the horror when Lady Mary and her parents, Lord Grantham and his American wife Cora are given the heave-ho by a snooty society hostess. Back then, a divorced woman was a social pariah. Luckily, Lady Mary finds an ally in bon vivant playwright Noel Coward whose deadpan barbs rival Dame Maggie's.

Another Crawley problem, besides social disgrace, is complete financial ruin. Cora's brother Harold arrives from the States with news that bad investments have resulted in the loss of the family fortune that has kept Downton going. All seems lost with the Abbey on the chopping block. But it doesn't stop frisky Lady Mary—the heir apparent—from indulging in a fling. Lady Mary's shrewd sister Edith contrives a society event in her honor to be attended by Noel Coward and his movie star friend Guy Dexter. No one knows of Guy's secret affair with former "Downton" servant Thomas so the coast is clear to break a few rules, such as the foolish ban on divorced women. When the chance comes for the elite to hobnob with glittering celebrity, they seize it. How times have not changed.

The Camelot-world of "Downton" represents that ideal that Lord Grantham honors as his fingertips touch the stone memorial to his mother near the film's end. And we honor the cast and crew of this cinema remembrance for the pleasure of their company and the joy they take in recreating that one brief, shining moment.

MAN OF THE MONTH

Interviewed by Ken Sabanosh

It's 1950 in Detroit, Michigan, and the state was booming when Mr. A was born—its auto industry drawing families from across the globe. His parents, both Detroit natives, raised Mr. A and his older brother amid this vibrant mix of languages, food, and music. A rich cultural upbringing shaped Mr. A's lifelong curiosity. He excelled in sports—especially hockey—and became an avid fan of Motown, whose rhythm was the city's heartbeat.

Mr. A enrolled at the University of Michigan, first majoring in mathematics before discovering that words and ideas captured his imagination more deeply than numbers. He earned degrees in English, Psychology, and Education, with a minor in math, followed by a master's in Reading Education, specializing in reading disabilities.

After graduation, Mr. A moved to Houston to be near relatives, including his beloved grandmother. He recalls joining her on market trips where she haggled fluently in several languages—an experience that deepened his appreciation for communication and culture. Over the years, Mr. A's career spanned education, sports reporting, and retail management. Teaching, however, remained his greatest passion.

While teaching in Houston, Mr. A met a ten-year-old student, Steve, whose difficult home life troubled him. When Steve's mother could no longer care for him, Mr. A opened his home and became the father figure the boy desperately needed. Under Mr. A's guidance, Steve thrived, earning a place at Houston's High School for the Performing and Visual Arts and later at the Eastman School of Music. At fifteen, Steve came out to Mr. A—one of the first people he ever told. He would go on to build a 25-year career with the London Symphony Orchestra alongside his husband before both tragically succumbed to COVID-19 in 2020.

After a decade in Houston, Mr. A relocated to Austin, where he built community and fell in love. That relationship ended sadly when his partner was killed in a car accident—a loss that left a lasting mark. Seventeen years later, in 2001, Mr. A settled in Fort Lauderdale and moved to Palm Aire in 2003, where he remains an active and valued neighbour.

Community involvement has always been part of Mr. A's DNA. He served with the Houston Jaycees and later on the Travis County Advisory Board for Social Work, always championing fairness and empathy. A passionate bridge player and teacher, he has achieved the rank of Sapphire Life Master, and he stays active playing pickleball and continuing to learn every day.

A longtime member of both Prime Gentlemen and SAGE, Mr. A lives by simple but powerful principles: help others, be honest, and give back. His favorite motto captures his spirit perfectly: "The more you do, the more you can."

IN MEMORIAM

Stephen Barnhart

August 19, 1961 – November 5, 2025

We are deeply saddened by the loss of our dear member, Stephen Barnhart, who passed away on Wednesday, November 5, at Holy Cross Hospital. He is survived by his partner, AJ Ratliff, as well as his sister and brother.

Stephen joined Prime Gentlemen in November 2014. Those who knew him will remember his exuberance, warmth, and good cheer. He was honored as Man of the Month in September 2018 — click here to read the article about him.

Stephen's career included 12 years of service with Minnesota Fabric at their flagship location and 18 years as a manager with the upscale retailer Parisian in the Detroit suburbs. He was a generous and kind man, always ready to celebrate life. When AJ faced his own medical challenges, Stephen was steadfastly by his side, caring for him with unwavering devotion.

Stephen will be deeply missed by all who knew him. Please keep AJ in your thoughts during this very difficult time. Information about a memorial service will be shared soon.

Norm Peters

March 29, 1932 – November 4, 2025

Professor Norman Peters passed away after a long illness. Known as the "Grandfather of the Klassic Coffee Klatch," he and his partner, Bill Woodward, led the Sage of South Florida Men's Drop-In group for more than ten years. In fact, his email address started with "sagedropin."

Norm taught psychology at the University of Hawaii and later at UCLA. His life touched thousands.

His former students kept in contact with him well into his retirement, and his friends counted him as a steady, wise presence. He will be deeply missed by the many people whose lives he shaped with kindness, intelligence, and quiet generosity.

He and Bill have been together for 50 years. Keep Bill in your thought during what will be a difficult period of adjustment.

BOOK DISCUSSION

by Paul McNamara

DECEMBER MEETING:

In lieu of a discussion meeting, the group will gather at 11:00 AM on Saturday, December 13 for the Book Group's Annual Holiday Luncheon
at Rosie's Bar & Grill.

BOOK GROUP'S "BACK STORY"

Initially called "The Book Bunch," the Book Group was the first activity established by SAGE of South Florida. It held its first meeting in September of 1995. In January 2024, the book group merged with Prime Gentlemen, and the meetings were opened to all SAGE and Prime Gentlemen members.

From its inception, the group has adhered to two fundamental criteria: the first criterion is that books must be available in paperback. This was recently amended to specify that the books must also be available in a digital format. The second criterion is that they should be relevant to the LGBTQ+ community without mandating classification as "gay books." Over the years, the group has explored various genres, including history, biographies, memoirs, as well as a diverse range of fiction such as mysteries, romance, detective stories, science fiction, and historical fiction. Members actively propose future reading titles, and periodic group votes shape the agenda for the months ahead.

Meetings were held on the second Saturday of the month from 11:00 AM to noon at the Stonewall Library on Sunrise Boulevard. Starting with the January 24, 2026 discussion, meetings are now scheduled for the fourth Saturday of the month. Initially, meetings took place in person only. However, with the onset of COVID in the spring of 2020, meetings were held exclusively on Zoom during the pandemic. Currently, a Zoom hybrid format is utilized, with some members attending in person at the library while others join online via Zoom.

The book to be discussed at the January 24 meeting is The House of Hidden Meanings, by RuPaul. In this memoir, the international drag superstar and pop culture icon RuPaul delivers his most revealing and personal work to date. Additional information about the book and the meeting will be provided in the January issue of The Surfer. Please consider joining the discussion with the group. There is no charge, and reservations are not required.

December 25, 2025 @ 1:00PM

I have planned a Christmas Day mid-day meal since 2018 so that everyone will have the opportunity to celebrate with friends. No one need stay at home alone for the holiday. My criteria for selecting a restaurant includes modest prices and the ability of the restaurant to accommodate a large group. This year, I have selected Zuckerello's. This event is targeting members of SAGE, Prime Gentlemen and their friends.

Zuckerello's will be offering a reduced menu for Christmas day, and I will be forwarding it to you as soon as it's available. Zuckerello's always serves elegant meals, with large portions and great service. It has been a favorite of ours for many years! Please let me know if you would like to join our Christmas holiday dinner group: wildhybrid@aol.com

TECHNOLOGY FOR BEGINNERS

by Eric Runyan

Gaining a better understanding of how our computers, smartphones and smart TVs work can greatly enhance your experience in today's digital world. That's why I'm offering Prime Gentlemen a free series of classes at two community centers in Broward County, including the Pride Center at Equality Park.

The series, called Technology for Beginners, covers a variety of topics such as Windows and Mac operating systems, Chromebooks, Android phones, iPhones, social media, email, and general computer literacy. No prior experience is required.

The Pride Center classes are held on the second Thursday of each month from 2:00 to 4:00 PM. They're completely free for Prime Gentlemen members, as I'm a member too. If the Pride Center location doesn't work for you, I also offer classes at the Skolnick Center in Pompano Beach.

To view the class schedule and register, visit HelpMeEric.com. While you're there, you can also explore a range of computer repair, installation and troubleshooting.
